CORNERSTONE

Among the definitions of a cornerstone is this statement: — “A thing of basic importance.” At the head of our Program of Studies is the following sentence: “The aim of education at the Needham Senior High School is the education of the whole individual as a member of a democratic society.” That is of basic importance to us; it is our cornerstone of education.

That aim can be attained by teachers and pupils working together to bring to pass the following results:

- boys and girls well grounded in the fundamental intellectual skills,
- boys and girls fully aware of the values of and adequately trained in the habits of good health,
- boys and girls sufficiently educated to make proper and efficient use of their hours of work and leisure,
- boys and girls thoroughly trained in the attitudes and responsibilities of good citizenship,
- boys and girls who can grow civically, socially, morally, and spiritually in such a manner as will strengthen our American way of life.

There should be no question of the possibility of achieving our objective because everything is in our favor: an adequate, well equipped physical plant, an excellent faculty, and a superior student body. What more could we ask for? Let us press onward to the high calling that is ours and produce young men and women who are not only true to themselves but also worthy and contributing members of a democratic society.

William F. Pollard

DEDICATION

We, the class of 1954, dedicate this, our graduation issue, to Frank Henry Miller, who passed away on August 9, 1953.

FRANK H. MILLER

Wise boy, to fly ere Time could take Thy youth and leave it in his wake.
To leave before thou could'st be left
By those bereaved. Yet thou'rt bereft
Of nought but present time whose song,
However sweet, is never long.

We labor over countless days.
We count Time's strokes in many ways.
We stay to see our youth depart.
We linger with a knowing heart.
We see our joy is ever brief
Like the summer of a leaf.

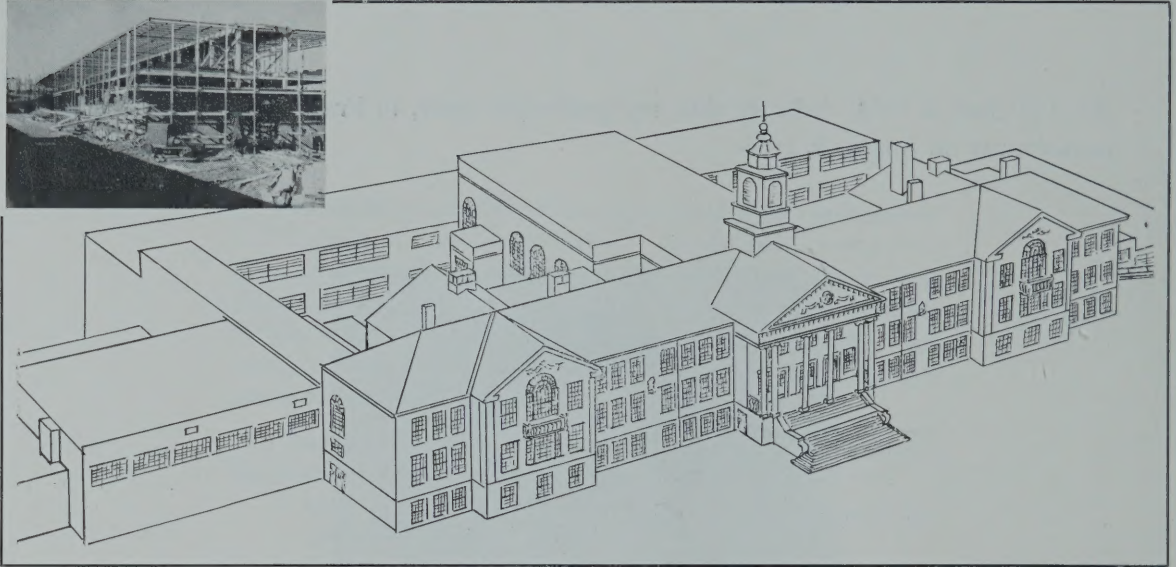

But thou, fair youth, whose song is sung
Will live forever, ever young.
Thou wilt never say farewell.
Thou in sorrow never dwell.
We miss thee, youth, thy smile, thy hand,
Yet envy thee thy brighter land.

J. W. F.

PROGRESS REPORT

NEEDHAM HIGH SCHOOL 1955

One has only to look at the High School to know that an addition to the school is under construction. Because of Needham's fast-growing population, the school committee found that the town must either build a new high school or put an addition onto the present one. After investigating the situation, they found that the more efficient way of increasing the capacity for high school pupils would be to make an addition to the present building.

Although the High School does not appear to be crowded now, a glance at the size of the classes coming to the school in the next ten years shows that they will average three hundred or more pupils. Four grades, with some pupils from Dover, will occupy the School; so accommodations for fifteen hundred pupils will be needed.

The estimated cost of the construction is two million dollars. This sum sounds unbelievably large, but it includes not only the cost of the addition but also the cost of remodeling the older building.

The construction is divided into three units. Unit A at the south end of the building is the cafeteria, serving five hundred pupils; unit B is the gymnasium, which has a seating capacity of twelve hundred; unit C consists mainly of twenty-seven classrooms. New teachers' rooms, a new library, a new study hall, and a health suite are also included in the addition.

GRATITUDE IS THE HEART'S MEMORY

Miss McKenna, Miss Gates, and Miss Kenney

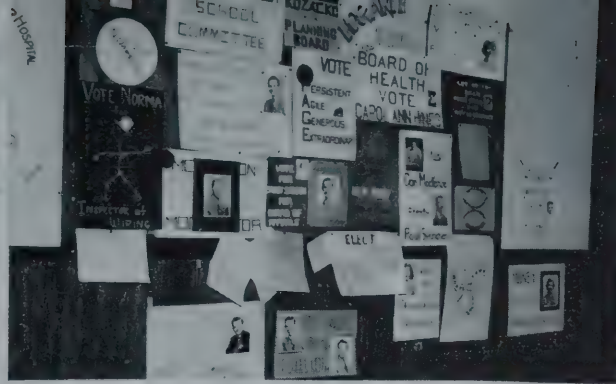

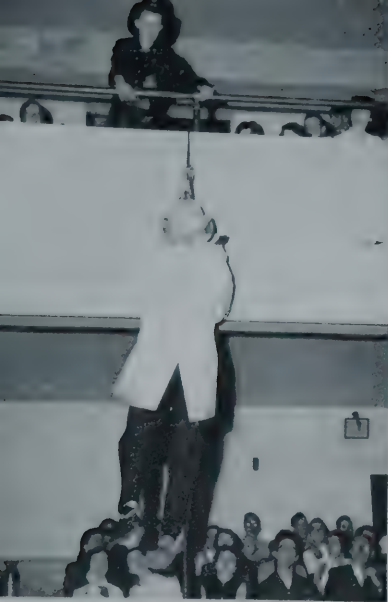

Mr. Ferrett, Miss Durgin, and Miss Steele

To the class advisors:

For their infinite patience and understanding, their willingness to sacrifice their time for our benefit, and for their indispensable support in our class activities, we, the class of 1954, are beholden to our class advisors: Miss Alice Gates, Miss Margaret Kenney, and Miss Catherine McKenna.

To the Advocate advisors:

With deep appreciation we, the Advocate staff of 1954, acknowledge our gratitude to Miss Louise Steele, Miss Florence Durgin, and Mr. John Ferrett for the assistance they have given us in making our book a success.

SENIOR PLAY

On December 11 and 12, the Class of 1954 enacted the comedy, The Man Who Came to Dinner, written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The play was expertly directed by Mrs. Alexander French and ingeniously staged by the production committees.

"Portly Sheridan Whiteside, critic, author, and lecturer," injures his hip on the doorstep of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley's house. While confined to a wheelchair in their home, Whiteside tries to run the household. With the help of actress Lorraine Sheldon, he also tries to ruin the romance between his secretary, Maggie, and Bert Jefferson, a local newspaperman. When Whiteside discovers that Maggie really loves Bert, he has the problem of disposing of Lorraine. After Banjo, another of Whiteside's colleagues, succeeds in shutting Lorraine in a mummy case, Bert proposes to Maggie. While leaving the Stanleys, Whiteside again falls on their doorstep; and the play ends in confusion.

CLASS WILL

Because, we, the Class of one thousand nine hundred and fifty-four, of Needham High School, of the Town of Needham, in the County of Norfolk, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, are still in possession of a sound mind and memory in addition to a satirical but not sarcastic humor, realizing the uncertainty of our future existence, do see it fitting to bequeath our following possessions in this our last will and testament, thereby revoking all other wills. We bequeath as follows:

- Item 1. To Mr. Pollard we leave our sincere thanks for what he has done for us all.
- Item 2. To Miss Gates, Miss Kenney and Miss McKenna we leave our gratitude for the aid and counseling they have given us.
- Item 3. The Hockey Team leaves its fight to future Needham teams.
- Item 4. To Dr. Copeland we leave two matching socks.
- Item 5. To Mr. Maloney we leave some non-possessive girls.

APPRENTICES

JUNIOR CLASS

P. Pennal, Secretary; L. Allen, Vice-President; P. Hogarth, Treasurer; W. Swim, President.

Full of energy and ambition, the Junior class has achieved many goals during the past two years on the Hill. Diligently working under the guidance of Miss Harrington, Miss Lewis, and Mr. Berry, the class had a successful Sophomore Hop, a record-breaking Junior Prom, and a startling talent show, The Masquerade Ball.

Warren Swim, President; Lee Allen, Vice President; Pat Pennal, Secretary; and Phyllis Hogarth, Treasurer, have given much of their time to the activities of the Juniors.

The number of Juniors receiving honor marks each term proves the scholastic ability of the class. George Seaver, Angelo Anzino, Bob Anderson, Burton Lueth, Harry Duvall, George Lambert, and Barry Bloom represent the class athletically; and they will continue to set fine examples for succeeding classes.

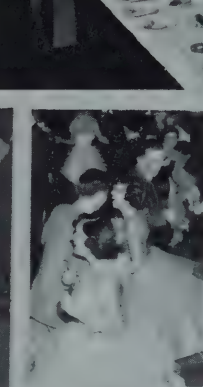

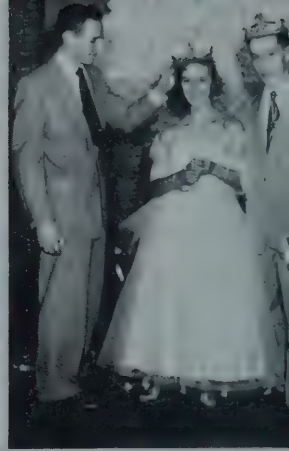

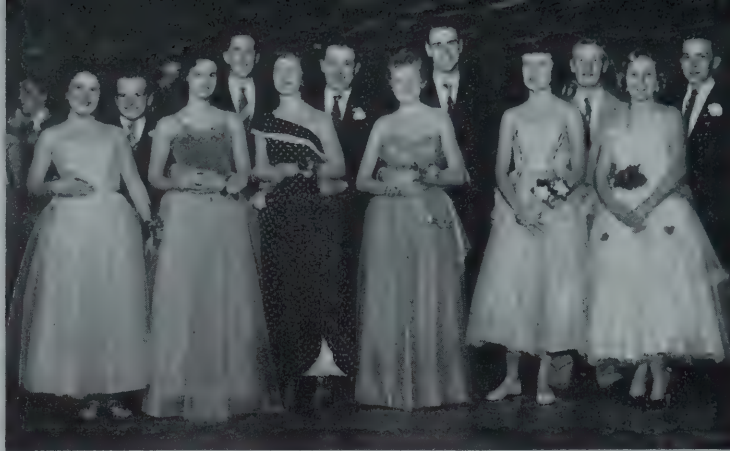

The incentive and excellent quality of the Junior Class indicates that they will continue toward even greater goals during their last year on the Hill.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

J. Woodruff, Treasurer; D. Williamson, President; D. Wales, Vice-President; J. Allen, Secretary.

This year's Sophomore Class is the last to enter as tenth graders on the Hill. They certainly are a credit to their class advisors, Mrs. Kinchla, Miss Fessenden, and Mr. Laforet.

Donald Williamson, President; Douglas Wales, Vice-President; Judy Allen, Secretary; and Jane Woodruff, Treasurer, have been praiseworthy leaders of their class.

In the field of sports, the Class of 1956 was well represented. Gene Castagnetti was a member of the football team, filling the quarterback position commendably. In hockey, Donnie Williamson displayed ability as a goalie with six shut-outs in nine games.

The girls also showed remarkable talent in their sports. Roma Wright was outstanding in field hockey, receiving her first-team letter. Representing their class as cheerleaders were Judy Cox and Jane Woodruff.

This class, having thus shown its ability and conscientiousness this year, will doubtless continue to win laurels during the next two years.

UNION MEETINGS

As the weeks and months of 1953-54 flew over the hill, Monday mornings piled up an impressive list of assembly programs. Ranging from serious, current-event assemblies to riotous pep rallies, they proved to be both educational and entertaining. Planning and scheduling has been well handled by a Student Council committee headed by Nancy Wellman, with the assistance of Warren Swim and Sally Eaton.

On the serious side were the monthly movies on all types of current events entitled, "News Magazine of the Month," which not only presented us with the headlines, but also with many interesting sidelines. There were talks about deep sea diving, by Mr. Williamson, hosteling in Europe, by Mr. Durkee, and a guidance assembly by Mr. Darling; all were appreciated by the student body. Mr. Darling posed an interesting question, "Do our marks show that we have been taking up anything in high school besides space?"

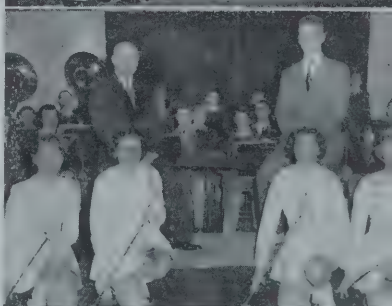

Three of our faculty members gave talks, bringing out sides of their character that go unobserved in the class room. Mr. Protheroe told of his adventures in Iran, while he was in the service; Mr. Ferrett showed colorful slides on his trip to Mexico; Mr. Laforet talked on his war experiences in Pearl Harbor and Japan. Although he made much of his talk humorous, it contained very real and useful messages for all of us.

The music department accounted for many of our assemblies this year. The band gave two full length assemblies, besides their weekly duty of playing while the students entered and left the auditorium. The girls' chorus, the Acappella choir, and a boys' jazz band, called "The Seldom Eat Eight," constituted a third musical assembly. The Acappella choir and the boys' chorus also sang in the Christmas assembly.

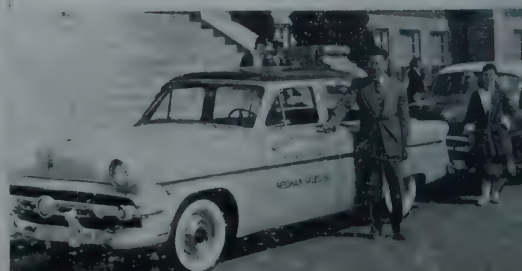

Also in the Christmas assembly was a play taken from the book, Little Women, put on by the members of the Drama Club. The Drama Club also contributed to our part of the exchange assemblies with Wellesley by staging a humorous play entitled, The Bathroom Door. As its part of the exchange, Wellesley presented a band concert consisting of selections from various types of music.

On the lighter side were those rousing pep rallies led by Mr. Harris, a motion picture on flying starring Arthur Godfrey, the Junior Talent Show, entitled "Masquerade Ball", the sports assemblies including the awarding of letters, and the preview of the Senior Play, The Man Who Came to Dinner.

As this book goes to press, the Seniors are preparing for their annual show. Everyone is looking forward to this as a positive success to top off the many and varied assemblies of the school year.

ADVOCATE

(second row) Miss Steele, Miss Durgin, C. Brady, N. Barten, S. Lindergreen, J. Regan, M. B. Girrior, A. Cruickshank, C. A. Hines, L. Praetsch, J. Hall, J. Murdoch, J. Mills, Mr. Ferrett.

"The Secretary will call the roll." With these words Joan Richardson, Editor-in-Chief of the Advocate, began the formidable task of organizing the numerous committees into a single unit to prepare this issue. Aiding Joan as associate editors were Carolyn Chesebrough, Make-up Editor; Marcia Salamone, Business Manager; and Peter Scott, Photography Editor. Even these capable leaders, however, would have been unable to produce this yearbook without the understanding guidance of their advisors, Miss Durgin, Miss Steele, and Mr. Ferrett.

It is through the hard work of the members of the Business Board that it is financially possible to publish a yearbook. This year's board has done an unusually commendable job of managing Advocate finances. Special credit must also go to Carol Ann Hines, the board's efficient secretary, who diligently kept a record of every motion, transaction, vote, and discussion.

The decision to discontinue the annual Christmas Issue led to the reorganization of the staff. The boards are now titled the General Board, the Art Board, the Photography Board, the Sports Board, and the Typing Board. With only one issue to produce, the staff had enough time to arrange several new features, which can be found in these pages.

Many members of the staff attended the interviews with celebrities and the previews of noted motion pictures that each year now are sponsored by the Boston Globe. On these occasions the staff not only enjoyed themselves, but they also learned to work with other groups and had opportunities to talk with the yearbook staffs of nearby high schools.

The Senior Board permanently solved several long-standing problems and was able to recommend to the Juniors solutions to others; this should make next year's Advocate easier to produce.

STUDENT COUNCIL

 (second row) Mrs. McCurdy, Advisor; S. Hanlon, A. Sheehan, A. Broder, P. Bartlett, W. Peterson, R. Stephens, J. Fitzpatrick, C. Chesebrough, J. Mills, C. Brady.

Student Council, under the guidance of Mrs. McCurdy and Mr. Pelletier, handled a full agenda this year.

The rules for electing cheerleaders were amended, and the Council revised the letter-awarding system to include the cheerleaders and majorettes among those who receive recognition. Mr. Harris came before the Council to ask for letters for the band. Since such an award would allow other school organizations which receive academic credit also to be eligible for letters, the matter was seriously debated by the Council members. The final motion to grant his request was lost.

Carrying on a policy introduced last year, the Council arranged to exchange assemblies with Wellesley High School. The success of these assembly programs suggests that the custom will continue. Plans for an S. A. A. dance in the spring were discussed, but the idea was dropped because of the lack of interest shown by the student body.

This spring, the Council has spent a great deal of time formulating a definition of a good school citizen which will serve as a standard for future Student Council members, class officers, and homeroom officers. The expansion of Needham High has made it necessary for the Student Council to review and revise its rules to serve a four-year high school.

Delegates from Needham's Student Council were worthy representatives of the school at the annual conventions of the Eastern Massachusetts Association of Student Councils and the Massachusetts Association of Student Councils.

The officers of the Student Council for 1953-1954 were: William Hogarth, President; Paul Svendsen, Vice-President; Marcia Salamone, Secretary; and Edith Gray, Treasurer. The chairmen of the committees were: Nancy Wellman, assemblies; Carolyn Chesebrough, reports; Carol Gibson, rules; Sonja Lindergreen, bulletin board; Richard Kozacko, juke box; John Paul Nickerson, liaison; and Richard Morrison, sports.

Listening to free music before lunch makes Fridays just a little pleasanter. Twenty-two boys directed by Mr. Frederick Harris and accompanied by Ann Fessenden produce this music as members of the Boys' Glee Club. The boys have sung this year in several assemblies, one of which was the exchange assembly for Wellesley. Such songs as Men of Harlech, The Winter Song, and All God's Chillen Got Robes, are indicative of the type of selections which have continued to keep their performances high among the favorites of the student body.

The pride of Needham High is its outstanding and energetic band. Dressed in bright blue, its members played on the field and in the bleachers at every football game of the season and at several winter-sports matches. Under the spirited baton of Mr. Frederick J. Harris, they played at most of the assemblies and pep rallies, interpreting many new and entertaining pieces. Accompanying the band, as it played at games and rallies, were the majorettes with their lively routines.

An addition to the band's expanding program this year was the children's concerts given in the elementary schools throughout town. These concerts were very well received.

As in past years, the band has succeeded in creating favorable impressions for this school.

The widespread interest which has been shown by the girls in their glee club is obvious by the number who participated in its activities. The Acappella Choir, formed from the Glee Club, has sung this year in several special assemblies.

This year the success of the Girls' Gym Meet was the aim of every member of Girls' Leaders Club. Under the able leadership of Miss Carroll, Captain Janet Young, and squad leaders Edith Gray, Barbara Brearley, Phyllis Hogarth, and Mary Beth Girrior, and with the cooperation of all forty-eight girls, the Leaders Club made every effort to live up to its name. The girls' activities included helping with after-school sports and leading gym classes in Miss Carroll's absence.

The girls are chosen for ability in leadership and sports, scholastic record, and cooperation. Every member has shown that she can carry out her responsibilities and make the club's activities successful.

Consisting of about thirty girls, the Modern Dance Group has worked diligently this year every Friday during organization period in preparation for the gym meet in April. Under the direction of Miss Carroll, the girls have concentrated principally on learning basic modern dance techniques and developing their imagination to create their own dances. Every girl participating in modern dance achieves a sense of rhythm and grace. In the gym meet the girls expressed themselves in many movements and ensembles. Miss Carroll deserves sincere credit and thanks for devoting so much of her time to this activity.

This year Mr. Maloney introduced a new system of selecting members for Boys' Leaders Club. At the beginning of the year, each gym class elected a senior leader and five squad leaders. These boys meet in the gym Tuesdays during organization period for instruction in leadership and all types of gym work, such as apparatus, drill, and details of games played during gym periods.

The senior leaders, under the direction of Mr. Maloney, see that the squad leaders carry out their responsibilities, and generally look out for the welfare of their gym class.

(second row) P. Sylvester, M. J. Davis, B. Willis, S. Bennett, J. Adams, C. A. Hines, P. Hogarth, P. Ritter.

(third row) C. Maguire, J. Mills, M. Sawyer, M. Hamilton, E. Paulson, C. Clement, C. Brady.

AUDIO-VISUAL CLUB

Out of the confusion and excitement of the informal rehearsals of the Drama Club have come some outstanding presentations. Little Women, featuring several sophomore girls, was a part of the Christmas assembly. The Juniors presented an amusing play, Wrong Numbers, in a later assembly. Seniors and Juniors took leads in another play, The Bathroom Door, which was a hilarious addition to the exchange assembly with Wellesley.

Aside from having fun together, the thirty members of the Drama Club have gained real experience in acting and producing under the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Ferrett, and their officers, Ann Fessenden and Susan Hanlon.

Mrs. Wagner, the school Librarian, and the members of the Library Club have worked diligently on plans for the new library which will be part of Needham High next year. Mrs.

Wagner presented a program of instruction in library work. Several films were available to illustrate how to catalogue books and use references correctly. The girls themselves received practice in these skills by working in the library. The officers this year were Carol Hardy, President; Nancy Barten, Vice President; and Stella Solar, Secretary.

Before school each morning Mr. Protheroe, the director of the Audio-Visual Club, can be seen hurrying from room to room looking for stray projector operators for the day's "set up." The forty student members of the club are instructed by Mr. Protheroe at the weekly meetings in the fine art of projector operation and maintenance. Each week four different members are chosen to run the "set up" so that each has an equal opportunity at operation. The club is responsible for showing films in the classrooms and handling the stage equipment.

Hard luck was the plague of the 1953 football team. Injuries, freak occurrences, and bad breaks contributed to a generally poor season for Needham High. The record, 1 win against 8 losses does not tell the whole story.

The first three games went as most of the rest. We lost to Norwood, 6-0 in the opener. The Concord game was a rough one. The final: 28-0. Next came the one bright spot of the season, the Dedham game, which we won, 18-0.

We were again outclassed by the big, hard-charging Natick eleven, which downed us 34-0.

We lost the Walpole game, 14-0. This result came as a surprise as Needham thought it would win easily. The injury-ridden club lost the Framingham game, 21-0 and the Lexington game, 25-13. Back to as full strength as possible, the boys lost to Milton, 13-0. The Wellesley game was a clean one, but we lost, 19-0.

Although the team and season as a whole were poor, several individuals were outstanding. Coleman, as a passer and quarterback, Anderson as punter and scatback, Captain Hooper as the driving fullback, Glidden as Coleman's pass receiver, and sophomore Castagnetti, another passer, fall into this category. Graceffa proved himself invaluable in the Wellesley game.

Tom Hooper was officially captain but, while he was injured, Graceffa, Coleman and Anzivino called the flip of the coin. At the end of the season the team elected Anderson and Anzivino captains of the 1954 team.

WRESTLING

The 1954 edition of the Wrestling Team had an exceptionally fine season, winning six and losing two matches. Included in the victories were wins over Perkins, 29-8; St. Mark's, 26-13; Roxbury Latin, 23-17; Tabor, 25-10; Milton Academy, 19-13; and Wellesley, 30-5. The team lost only to Exeter, later to be the New England Champions, and Noble and Greenough. Of twenty-six teams entered in the New England Tournament, Needham finished in a tie for fifth place with Tabor Academy. Burt Lueth finished second in the 130-lb. class, and Angelo Anzivino and Co-Captain George Seaver placed third in the 177-lb. and 123-lb. classes, respectively. Much credit should go to Mr. DeFazio, who coached in his outstanding manner, and the loyal fans, who never let the boys down. Looking to next year one finds that the team is losing only one first team wrestler, Co-Captain Dick Coleman. Outstanding individual records were compiled by George Seaver, Burt Lueth, Dick Coleman, and Angelo Anzivino. Other members of the squad were Dick Wharton, Dave Holden, Phil Stowell, and Charlie Gray. Sophomore Gene Castagnetti, who was not on the first team, did very well.

The Wrestling Team hopes to obtain new additional equipment. If this new equipment is added, the team hopes to have the facilities to have the New England Tournament in the new gym. Since there will be the ninth grade at the High School next year, the team is hoping to add some lightweight equipment.

Another plan for next year is the addition of several practice pre-Christmas matches. This would be of great benefit to the team, as in past years it has been impossible for them to get into shape until after Christmas.

BASKETBALL

 (third row) C. Beldotti, G. Marchant, S. Duvall, K. Henrich, R. Gassett, W. Whittemore, B. McNeish, J. Glode.

The Needham High basketball team of 1953-54 had all the speed, spirit, and ability needed for a championship team; but a lack of height prevented the Blue and White's retaining the Bay State League title won by Gracey, Twigg, and Company the previous year. Although a record of five wins and nine losses in league play is not very impressive, with a few breaks the boys could have been at the top of the league. One of the defeats was by two points in a game requiring two overtime periods at the hands of Milton, who later became league champions. The boys also dropped a sudden-death game to Norwood; three games to Natick, by less than five points; and a one-point decision to Wellesley in the final seconds of the game. The second Framingham game which was played at Needham was one of the Blue and White's better games. Framingham was leading with less than forty seconds remaining in the first over-time period when Wainwright scored; Svendsen followed. Needham was victorious. In only two games were they beaten decisively, all the other losses being by less than nine points. The team improved greatly in the last half of the season, upsetting Dedham on their home court, winning three of their last five games, and reaching the semi-finals of the Small Schools' Tournament before losing a very close game to Natick by three points.

There were many bright spots during the season such as the victories in league competition over Framingham, Walpole, Wellesley, and Dedham, and over St. Mary's of Lynn in the Small Schools' Tournament. Wainwright had the second highest individual point total in the Bay State League, and along with Coburn and Svendsen was picked to represent Needham on the Bay State League All-Star Team. At the Small Schools' Tournament, Svendsen and Glidden were selected for the Class A All-Star Team.

Coach Johnston, who did such a fine job with this year's squad, is looking forward to a good season next year with Alaimo, Broder, Bloom, and Allen returning from the Varsity team.

FIELD HOCKEY

(third row) F. Glover, D. Hawkins, B. Knight, M. George, C. Crosby, B. Nettleton, R. Wright, J. Gehling, P. Money.

Many years have elapsed since Needham has had a winning field hockey team. Enthusiasm and spirit always have drawn many girls to the game, but the winning of their matches has often been another question. This year both teams compiled records of which they can be justly proud. The first team, captained by Edith Gray, won 2, lost 2, and tied 3. The school can be especially proud of the second team, which lost only one game.

Last fall, forty girls came out for the first practice session. Gradually, as the stiffness wore out of their muscles, the girls worked up stamina and knowledge of the game.

The first game, against Brookline, started the teams off on the right foot. Spirit was high as the first team tied with a score of 1-1, while the second team came through with a 1-0 victory. Natick, the next opponent, bowed to both teams by scores of 2-0 and 2-1. The next game was played with previously undefeated Walpole. Although Needham suffered two injuries in Captain Edith Gray and Nancy Schmidt, the first team managed to tie 1-1, and the second team continued undefeated by winning 2-1. Watertown proved the better of both teams, as they defeated the first team 2-1 and the second team 2-0. Against their arch rival, Wellesley, they came out on top. In two meetings, Needham tied one and won three games. Against Newton the first team ran into difficulty. The team played well against hard-to-beat Newton, but met defeat 2-0. The second team played one of its best games of the season in defeating its opponent 2-0.

Highest scorers of the season were Roma Wright, with six goals to her credit and Phyllis Hogarth and Mary Ellen Small, with four and two goals respectively.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

(second row) S. Eaton, M. Johnson, M. Jackson, M. J. Davis, B. Willis, S. Solar, B. Swett, J. Adams, A. Fessenden, C. Patten, P. Hogarth, M. B. Girrior, J. Mills; Miss Carroll, coach.

Girls' sports reached a high point with this year's basketball season. All three classes showed the spirit and sportsmanship that have been characteristic of Needham's teams in the past years. Each team deserves to be congratulated for the fine records compiled this season.

(third row) F. Dodge, W. Young, J. Pelletier, R. Lowden, G. Mills.

Led by high-scoring Wenham and team mate Keith, the "Rockets" emerged as Massachusetts State Hockey champs, despite tremendous handicaps.

The team under first-year coach, Jim Maloney, started off the season by beating Norwood and Waltham by identical scores, 6-2. Needham fought to a scoreless tie against B.C. High. Then they trounced rival Wellesley 4-1. The team faced its first defeat at the hands of defending champion Walpole as the "Rockets" went down to the tune of 3-0. They came back to beat Watertown, 6-0, and Framingham, 5-0. In the play-off games the team had to face Wellesley, who handed Needham its second defeat by a score of 2-1. Needham tied Waltham, 1-1. The boys captured second place as Walpole had clinched the Bay State title. The boys really outdid all but their own expectations, as they beat Walpole in a later game.

Three teams, Walpole, Needham, and Wellesley, from the Bay State League were invited to the Met. Tourney. From the start Needham was picked as a "dark horse." Their first win was over Hudson. Next a husky Danvers sextet gave the boys a physical beating but again Needham won the game. Next our opponent was Belmont, winners of the G.B.I. League.

It took the "Rockets" four overtime periods to win. In the second overtime goalie Williamson was injured while doing a saving split. Needham then went into the final game to face none other than Walpole. With Keith playing the nets, Needham went on to win the game despite its handicaps, 3-2. The team was then invited to the New England Tournament, but lost in the first round to Notre Dame of Berlin, N. H.

Wenham was high scorer in the Bay State League and was voted M.V.P. in the State Tourney. Wenham and Keith were chosen to represent Needham on the Bay State All-Star Team. The team's record for the season was 10 wins, 2 ties, and 3 losses.

CLASS SONG

We lay aside the past
To face the world at last
And things to be.
Friends gather near to say,
“Farewell,” then go their way,
Seeking a brighter day
The same as we.

Live faithfully we must,
Lest we betray the trust
In us reposed,
Knowing that our reward
Will be a soul restored,
Granted us by our Lord
When life is closed.

Paul Doering — 1954
